The total earnings given were reported by 199 Class 1 roads, which control by far, the greatest proportion of the country's track mileage.

The statement credited a part of the earnings shown to the fact that October was normally the heaviest traffic month of the year, while the threat of a general strike impending operated to increase loadings and rush shipments.

POLICE SUPPRESS MOB VIOLENCE BY CHICAGO STRIKERS

A GREAT MANY PERSONS ARE INJURED BEFORE ORDER IS RESTORED

BOTH SIDES CLAIM VICTORY AT SOUTH ST. PAUL PACKING PLANTS

(By United Press.)
Chicago, Dec. 9.—Chicago's stockyards district today was the scene of another series of outbreaks, which at times approached the riot stage, as a result of the strike of packing plant employees which had been in effect in all of the country's chief packing centers for four days.

One man was shot, scores were injured, police engaged in pistol and rifle fights with strike sympathizers, dozens of men and women were arrested as a result of today's disorders which occurred as the workers were leaving the local plant.

The outbreaks came within a few hours after Judge Denis Sullivan had issued a temporary injunction restraining the strikers from picketing but despite this order, several thousand men gathered around the plants just before the closing whistle.

At the Armour Glue company about 2,000 men began hurling bricks and stones at the workers as they left the plant. Almost simultaneously, disorders broke out at half a dozen other points, and within a short time the whole packing district seemed to be in disorder.

Women in Mobs

Women played an important part, forming in crowds which blocked the traffic and hindered the police. One crowd of 150, led by a gray-haired woman was charged repeatedly by mounted police before it was disbanded. When the larger mobs had been broken up, the police found their work was only half finished for men, barricaded in houses and behind piles of debris, kept up a sporadic fire on the police. The man shot was one of these snipers and he kept up his fire on the house where he was barricaded and arrested him.

Attempt to arrest the fighters brought attacks from the women, who hurled pepper in the policemen's eyes.

Chief Takes Charge
Chief of Police Fitzmorris threw every available policeman into the district tonight and assumed personal charge of his forces. Two hours after the first outbreak, he declared that "everything seemed well in hand."

Packing Strikers Held at Bay
Guards were ready to bring machine guns and tear gas into play against the striking employees of the packers.

"Cossacks—damn the Cossacks," was shouted from second and third story windows as the mounted police and motorcycle guards passed the houses of the strikers. Occasionally a stray shot of a sniper from a roof whizzed through the air. Other than these slight disturbances, packing today was quiet the fourth day of striking unionized employees against a ten per cent reduction in pay.

Packers Boost Meat Prices
Packers quoted pork at from 22c to 30c a pound, an increase of from 9c to 17c since the strike was called. Other meats have advanced, but not so much.

Rival Claims of Successes Made
South St. Paul, Dec. 9.—With both sides claiming victory, the South St. Paul stockyards has continued quiet today.

J. P. McCoy announced in a statement given out today that the ranks of the strikers are stronger than at any time since the beginning of the strike. "The butchers and mechanics are out 100 per cent," he said. "Without them the plant cannot function efficiently."

Officials of the Swift company claim the plant is operating on an 85 per cent basis while Armour & company claim a near 60 to 65 per cent basis.

National guard officers were conferring late today to determine whether the guard should be disbanded.

It was reported some of the troops would be sent home tomorrow or Sunday. Last night was the most peaceful at South St. Paul this week.

WHISKY CARLOAD, BILLED 'CABBAGES' SENT TO ANOKA

BOTTLES OF LIQUOR, BELIEVED SHIPPED FROM WINNIPEG, CONFISCATED IN RAID BY DRY AGENTS

Minneapolis, Dec. 9.—Belief of prohibition agents that a carload of Canadian liquor, covered with cabbages and shipped as "vegetable," passed through Minneapolis late in September and went on to be sold during the county fair at Anoka was strengthened yesterday when they confiscated 12 bottles of Canadian stamped Scotch whisky at Anoka. The men in whose possession the liquor was found are believed innocent of the transportation by federal agents, and their prosecution will be let entirely to District Attorney Alfred Jaques, A. I. Melahn, group chief, said.

Notice came to the agents shortly before the opening of the fair that a car of cabbages, which possibly contained liquor, had been shipped from Winnipeg and was in Minneapolis. They investigated, found that the car had been consigned through St. Paul and later sent on to Anoka, but that it had been unloaded at Anoka.

The men arrested told officers the 12 bottles in their possession were part of 120 bottles found on the Anoka fair grounds Nov. 19 in hay in the stockbarn. Of these, 38 have been confiscated to date by County Attorney W. A. Blanchard, agents reported. He informed the agents where they might find more, and investigation disclosed liquor on the premises of Geo. N. Withern, Champlin, and Frank Salter, Anoka, they said.

It is impossible to find the person in Anoka to whom the liquor was shipped, S. B. Qvale, director of prohibition, said. Agents discovered the cabbage in a shed at Anoka, but the "tip" came 10 days late, he said.

NOTORIOUS BANDIT MAKES HIS ESCAPE FROM STATE PRISON

PULLS OFF MORE SENSATIONAL STUNTS THAN A MOVIE MAN EVER THOUGHT OF

BELIEVED TO HAVE FLED TO HIS OLD HAUNTS IN TEXAS AND OKLAHOMA

(By United Press.)

Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 9.—Tom Slaughter, notorious bandit of the southwest, staged one of the most daring and spectacular prison breaks in southwestern criminal history early today, when he escaped from the death cell of the penitentiary here.

Following his escape with six other convicts, Slaughter engaged in a gun battle at Benton and Lonsdale with police, and after eluding capture, is believed enroute to his old haunts in Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Slaughter spent five hours wandering around the inside of the prison walls before making his final dash for liberty.

Feigning illness, Slaughter summoned a guard and asked for a blanket. The guard opened the door and advanced toward the bandit's cot and was covered by a gun which friends had smuggled to the prisoner.

Slaughter disarmed the guard and forced him to lead the way to the warden, where he "covered" three guards and forced them to lie on the floor while he bound them. Next he went to the hospital ward where he forced a nurse to lead him to the porter's wife and daughter. These he locked in the death cell. He then threw open the lock which secured the doors of the cells and told the convicts that all who wished to accompany him could do so. Six decided to go with him, while the others refused.

Among those who refused were six negroes who were under a death sentence for participation in the riots at Elaine, Ark., some time ago. Slaughter then locked the doors on the convicts who refused to accompany him. Proceeding to the jail yard, he took the tires off all the automobiles in the inclosure except the one in which he planned to escape. He then went to the storehouse and he and his six companions outfitted themselves in civilian clothes.

Swinging open the great gates of the penitentiary, Slaughter with his companions made their escape about 2:30 a. m., five hours from the time he gained his freedom from the death cell. No one was injured.

Slaughter was under death sentence for the alleged murder of a trustee in the Arkansas prison farm last September.

PRESS UNANIMOUS IN APPROVAL—BELIEVED DAIL WILL RATIFY BY NARROW MARGIN

Dublin, Dec. 9.—A majority of the Irish people today rallied to the support of the four cabinet members who favor acceptance of the peace treaty with Great Britain.

It is considered likely that the Dail will ratify by a narrow margin. It has been called to meet Wednesday. Approval of the treaty is believed to have narrowed down to the test of whether Eamonn DeValera or Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith who signed the agreement, have the greatest "backing" in Ireland.

Following the statement of DeValera that he would decline to recommend acceptance of the agreement to the Dail, Collins and Griffith both announced they would fight for the treaty in the belief that the conflict of centuries is at an end.

Proceeding to the jail yard, he took the tires off all the automobiles in the inclosure except the one in which he planned to escape. He then went to the storehouse and he and his six companions outfitted themselves in civilian clothes.

Swinging open the great gates of the penitentiary, Slaughter with his companions made their escape about 2:30 a. m., five hours from the time he gained his freedom from the death cell. No one was injured.

Slaughter was under death sentence for the alleged murder of a trustee in the Arkansas prison farm last September.

BELIEVED MAJORITY OF IRISH PEOPLE FA- VOR PEACE TREATY

PRESIDENT DeVALERA AND TWO CABINET OFFICERS ARE OPPOSED—FOUR FAVOR

PRESS UNANIMOUS IN APPROVAL—BELIEVED DAIL WILL RATIFY BY NARROW MARGIN

(By United Press.)

Dublin, Dec. 9.—A majority of the Irish people today rallied to the support of the four cabinet members, who favor acceptance of the peace treaty with Great Britain.

President DeValera and two cabinet ministers oppose the acceptance. The press of Ireland is unanimously in favor of the pact. On authority of those who should know the real feeling of the people, there were three persons in Ireland who would vote in favor of the treaty to every one against.

It is considered likely that the Dail will ratify by a narrow margin. It has been called to meet Wednesday. Approval of the treaty is believed to have narrowed down to the test of whether Eamonn DeValera or Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith who signed the agreement, have the greatest "backing" in Ireland.

Following the statement of DeValera that he would decline to recommend acceptance of the agreement to the Dail, Collins and Griffith both announced they would fight for the treaty in the belief that the conflict of centuries is at an end.

DeValera May Resign

London, Dec. 9.—The Dublin correspondent of the London Evening News, advised his paper today the resignation of Eamonn DeValera as "President of the Irish Republic" probably will be the outcome of the president's fight over acceptance of the Anglo-Irish treaty. DeValera was forced to his stand against the treaty by his recent public utterances, it was said. "Now the only outlet for his wounded pride after seeking everything in a republic, is a resignation."

Question of Vaccinating School Children Discussed, Eyes of Children to be Tested

The regular monthly meeting of the Nurse Supervising Committee was held in the Nurse's office Monday, December 5th. The members present were Mrs. W. H. Gemmell, Mrs. A. H. Anderson, C. H. Varner and E. L. Dahl. The routine business was conducted. Cards were purchased for testing the eyes of the children who are unable to read and the school board has also purchased a balance scale for the nurse's use.

The question of vaccinating the school children for small-pox was discussed and it was decided to vaccinate all the pupils whose parents care to have them vaccinated, just before Christmas vacation.

The following report for the month of November was submitted by the nurse:

Number of schools visited, 115.
Number of pupils inspected, 75.

Number of notices of children's defects sent parents—medical 54, surgical 13, ocular 5, dental 23.

Number of defects cared for by physicians—medical 22, surgical 2, ocular 3, dental 8. Number of instructions given 30, T. B. clinics 1, number attending clinic 2, T. B. home calls 3.

Contagious diseases—scarlet fever 1, chicken-pox 32, measles 10, impetigo 12, Truancies 3, prenatal calls 4. Calls on school children 124.

Attended a State Public Health Conference in Minneapolis, November 3, 4 and 5. Many helpful suggestions were received.

Sent notices to mothers of the children in one room, that their children have been exposed to chicken-pox and asked that they keep the children home if they show any symptoms of the disease. Eight children were excluded from school for two days, 14 days after being exposed to chicken-pox in order that another room might not be exposed.

Took eight children to their family physician or examination, medicine was given to six children.

Reported two cases of truenies to Mr. Varner and assisted in looking them up.

One Case Lost

A taxpayer, whose income arose from his vocation as a lawyer, made a trip to Canada in line with his profession, and had gotten through with the case—and half another one (which Mr. Volstead would not have approved). His wife, however, was nervous over his presence in the house. Being a conscientious person, she could only conclude that he was a lawbreaker and her mind was uneasy. In proportion as the case dwindled, her hopes rose.

Her worst fears were confirmed when one day the bell rang and the maid announced that a revenue agent was at the door. With presence of mind, she and the maid hastened to dispose of the forbidden stuff. When the remaining bottle had been emptied down the drain, she proceeded to confront the menace at the door—cool, calm and defiant.

"I'm a revenue agent," he informed her, "and I've called to see your husband about a matter in connection with his 1916 income tax return. Is he in?"—Wall Street Journal.

SPEEDING UP PENSIONS

Under the direction of Secretary Fall and his assistants in the Interior Department, there has been a very marked change in handling departmental affairs—a striking tendency to get away from red tape and legal technicalities and quibbles. The Pension Bureau, under this Department, affords a splendid example of this change in policy.

Under the Wilson administration, pensions which were allowed on account of disability were dated from the time of medical examination of the applicant. Under the new ruling the pension dates from the time the application is filed, provided it is allowed. The justice and good sense of this new ruling and the injustice of the former one lies in this: Owing to the great congestion in the Pension Bureau and the very slow disposition of business, which prevailed formerly, it was frequently several months between the time applications for pensions were filed and the medical examination of the applicant. This delay was no fault of the applicant, yet he was penalized because of the slowness with which the Pension Department acted upon his application. There are other rulings also in connection with the Pension Bureau which furnish examples of the new policy of the Department.

"INCONSISTENCY OF LAWS"

We have no doubt the ideas expressed in the following terse editorial in the St. Cloud Journal-Press have at some time occurred to many of our readers:

"When a man is convicted of stealing an automobile in a Minnesota court he is sent to prison for from five to ten years. When a man is convicted of making and selling a deadly poison under the name of moonshine, which may have caused deaths of human beings, he is usually fined a hundred dollars. That is the inconsistency of laws and courts from the long ago, and that is why justice is pictured as a lady in a temporary state of blindness."

The manufacture and sale of "moonshine," as at present extensively carried on, is something new to this country. What is needed is a new law—a special "moonshine" law—with severe penalties for manufacturing it, and for both selling it and buying it, or having it in one's possession. And we believe if the enforcement of the liquor laws was taken out of the hands of the Prohibition agents and given over entirely to the Department of Justice there would be more respect for the law, and for the officials, on the part of the general public, and probably a better enforcement.

TEACHERS IN COMMUNITY WORK

H. E. Flynn, inspector of teacher training department for the State Board of Education, makes the interesting statement that community work among the adults in the rural school districts of Minnesota is rapidly increasing. He says that more than half of the rural teachers are taking part in community club, child welfare, library, health, Parent-Teacher club, and other such work, which is an encouraging indication of progress.

The number of students being admitted to the normal schools of the state is still below the pre-war total, though it has been on the increase the last two or three years. The supply of teachers furnished annually, it is said, still is 600 to 800 less than the requirements of the state.

FEEDING RUSSIAN CHILDREN

It is said that the American relief administration in Russia, by the middle of January, when the famine conditions are expected to be at their worst, will be feeding 1,200,000 children. This is 200,000 more than they expected to feed when they went into Russia.

That they will begin clothing the youngsters in the famine area, and within a short time will furnish suits, shoes and stockings to the number of 500,000, is considered probable, and preparations are being made for this. So far the administration of this great charity has been in every way most successful.

FARMER LIVES LONGER

An interesting report of an investigation made by the building trades committee of the United Hospital Fund has just been made public in New York. This report finds that the industrial worker has one chance in eight of reaching 70 years of age, and the farmer one chance in three.

According to this report deaths in industrial centers are greatly increasing because of the break-down of hearts, arteries, kidneys, and digestive systems in middle life. External violence, rheumatism and epidemic diseases were held responsible for most illness among workers.

The preparation of both the army and navy appropriation bills providing funds for the fiscal year beginning next July, will be postponed until the Arms Conference has threshed out the armament question, Chairman Madden of the House Appropriations Committee announces.

Congressman Knutson, who is recovering from a serious operation, is on his way to Haiti, and is recuperating his strength on the sea voyage. He expects to return to Washington soon.

The Wheeling Intelligencer remarks that a bull may not be very intelligent, but he understood the red flag long before the rest of the world.

The Flint Journal cautions marines fighting train robbers to remember that the man who sells tickets is protected.

WILD HUNTING YARNS

(Cass Lake Times)

We don't vouch for the truth of all these stories, but one of our reporters in interviews with various hunters coming through here with deer picked up the following stories. The first one is rather strong but we tell it the way it was told to us. A fellow from Austin, Minnesota, was sitting on a stump in the Cua district resting from a hard walk thru the woods when he felt a jerk on his jacket and looking around came face to face with five dogs who were attempting to chew the buttons off his coat. In self defense he shot one and scared the others away. The fellow wouldn't tell his name but he wore a red cap and coat.

Another hunter tells about being out in the Lydick Brook country and had just killed a small buck and was engaged in skinning the animal when he heard the brush crack behind him and there stood a big three hundred-pound buck pawing the snow and getting ready to charge. The hunter, who didn't tell his name says he didn't know what to do, for he had shot his deer and being a law abiding citizen wouldn't think of shooting another, even in self defense, so he started to run and finally got away. The buck started across the swale and had just reached the other bank when two nimrods dropped him in his tracks.

Another hunter, who had faced the Germans at St. Mihiel, Chateau Thierry and in the Argonne and had faced saw-toothed bayonets and all the gas, came upon a big buck with a spread of antlers like a caribou. The buck stood and looked at him over the popular rush and the hunter who had charged into the bullets and shells of the Germans, froze, his gun dropped from his nerveless grasp and the buck laughing up his sleeve walked away. This hunter also had a red coat and cap but wouldn't tell his name.

Another fellow says he was coming down the railroad when he espied a hunter up the trail ahead of him. Just in back of the hunter a doe and two fawns came out and walked across the road. Into the brush after them sprang Young Surefoot when he heard the six shots of a rifle and came upon a southern Minnesota hunter standing on a stump. "Did you hit them?" asked our hero. "Hit them?" replied the citizen disgusted as a nimrod. "Hit them? Why that is the fifth herd of deer that has been driven past me today and I haven't hit a one. Next time I'm going to shut my eyes."

Not Fair.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

TAKE A GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR BACK HURTS OR BLADDER BOTHERS

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. Adv.

SPEEDING UP PENSIONS

Under the direction of Secretary Fall and his assistants in the Interior Department, there has been a very marked change in handling departmental affairs—a striking tendency to get away from red tape and legal technicalities and quibbles. The Pension Bureau, under this Department, affords a splendid example of this change in policy.

Under the Wilson administration, pensions which were allowed on account of disability were dated from the time of medical examination of the applicant. Under the new ruling the pension dates from the time the application is filed, provided it is allowed. The justice and good sense of this new ruling and the injustice of the former one lies in this: Owing to the great congestion in the Pension Bureau and the very slow disposition of business, which prevailed formerly, it was frequently several months between the time applications for pensions were filed and the medical examination of the applicant. This delay was no fault of the applicant, yet he was penalized because of the slowness with which the Pension Department acted upon his application. There are other rulings also in connection with the Pension Bureau which furnish examples of the new policy of the Department.

"INCONSISTENCY OF LAWS"

We have no doubt the ideas expressed in the following terse editorial in the St. Cloud Journal-Press have at some time occurred to many of our readers:

"When a man is convicted of stealing an automobile in a Minnesota court he is sent to prison for from five to ten years. When a man is convicted of making and selling a deadly poison under the name of moonshine, which may have caused deaths of human beings, he is usually fined a hundred dollars. That is the inconsistency of laws and courts from the long ago, and that is why justice is pictured as a lady in a temporary state of blindness."

The manufacture and sale of "moonshine," as at present extensively carried on, is something new to this country. What is needed is a new law—a special "moonshine" law—with severe penalties for manufacturing it, and for both selling it and buying it, or having it in one's possession. And we believe if the enforcement of the liquor laws was taken out of the hands of the prohibition agents and given over entirely to the Department of Justice there would be more respect for the law, and for the officials, on the part of the general public, and probably a better enforcement.

TEACHERS IN COMMUNITY WORK

H. E. Flynn, inspector of teacher training department for the State Board of Education, makes the interesting statement that community work among the adults in the rural school districts of Minnesota is rapidly increasing. He says that more than half of the rural teachers are taking part in community club, child welfare, library, health, Parent-Teacher club, and other such work, which is an encouraging indication of progress.

The number of students being admitted to the normal schools of the state is still below the pre-war total, though it has been on the increase the last two or three years. The supply of teachers furnished annually, it is said, still is 600 to 800 less than the requirements of the state.

FEEDING RUSSIAN CHILDREN

It is said that the American relief administration in Russia, by the middle of January, when the famine conditions are expected to be at their worst, will be feeding 1,200,000 children. This is 200,000 more than they expected to feed when they went into Russia.

That they will begin clothing the youngsters in the famine area, and within a short time will furnish suits shoes and stockings to the number of 500,000, is considered probable, and preparations are being made for this. So far the administration of this great charity has been in every way most successful.

FARMER LIVES LONGER

An interesting report of an investigation made by the building trades committee of the United Hospital Fund has just been made public in New York. This report finds that the industrial worker has one chance in eight of reaching 70 years of age, and the farmer one chance in three.

According to this report deaths in industrial centers are greatly increasing because of the break-down of hearts, arteries, kidneys, and digestive systems in middle life. External violence, rheumatism and epidemic diseases were held responsible for most illness among workers.

The preparation of both the army and navy appropriation bills providing funds for the fiscal year beginning next July, will be postponed until the Arms Conference has threshed out the armament question. Chairman Madden of the House Appropriations Committee announces.

Congressman Knutson, who is recovering from a serious operation, is on his way to Haiti, and is recuperating his strength on the sea voyage. He expects to return to Washington soon.

The Wheeling Intelligencer remarks that a bull may not be very intelligent, but he understood the red flag long before the rest of the world.

The Flint Journal cautions marines fighting train robbers to remember that the man who sells tickets is protected.

WILD HUNTING YARNS

(Cass Lake Times)

We don't vouch for the truth of all these stories, but one of our reporters in interviews with various hunters coming through here with deer picked up the following stories. The first one is rather strong but we tell it the way it was told to us. A fellow from Austin, Minnesota, was sitting on a stump in the Cua district resting from a hard walk thru the woods when he felt a jerk on his jacket and looking around came face to face with five does who were attempting to chew the buttons off his coat. In self defense he shot one and scared the others away. The fellow wouldn't tell his name but he wore a red cap and coat.

Another hunter tells about being out in the Lydick Brook country and had just killed a small buck and was engaged in skinning the animal when he heard the brush crack behind him and there stood a big three hundred-pound buck pawing the snow and getting ready to charge. The hunter, who didn't tell his name says he didn't know what to do, for he had shot his deer and being a law abiding citizen wouldn't think of shooting another, even in self defense, so he started to run and finally got away. The buck started across the swale and had just reached the other bank when two nimrods dropped him in his tracks.

Another hunter, who had faced the Germans at St. Mihiel, Chateau Thierry and in the Argonne and had faced saw-toothed bayonets and all the gas, came upon a big buck with a spread of antlers like a caribou. The buck stood and looked at him over the popular rush and the hunter who had charged into the bullets and shells of the Germans, froze, his gun dropped from his nerveless grasp and the buck laughing up his sleeve walked away. This hunter also had a red coat and cap but wouldn't tell his name.

CANNIBALS IN BELGIAN CONGO

Government Has Not Yet Fully Succeeded in Stamping Out the Practice.

This particular section of the Belgian Congo through which we were passing had been closed to white travelers for many years because of the rampant cannibalism of the natives.

We have been unable to detect any signs of cannibalistic practice in the unwelcome ruled by Kabongo or Matombo Makulu, although trusted carriers still often disappeared overnight from caravans in these regions and feasts always took place with suspicious sequence in some village near by. Further on to the north, where the strong arm of the white man's law has not yet reached, cannibalism is still in its palmy days, and slaves are fattened for the regular feasts of the year. Here the government has not yet allowed white men to penetrate.

Even in the district through which we were now passing a Belgian trader had been attacked only a few months before. Shortly after leaving the village of a chief—Mpereta—who had received us with extreme cordiality, we came upon a relic of the recent history of the chief and his village. It was a phallic emblem-post decorated with the bleached skulls of small children. It had escaped the notice of government troops who have orders to destroy them.

At several villages we found the old sort of Bachokwe natives still avowedly hostile to all white people, who had given up open cannibalism only when they had to. The people and their chiefs refused to have anything to do with us, although they did not open hostilities. On such occasions we quickly changed our plans as to setting up camp for the night. The trail ahead seemed strangely attractive just then, even to our tired carriers.—Helen E. Springer in Scribner's Magazine.

That Sunday School Class!

Wishing to become acquainted with the methods of her predecessor, a young woman who taught a Sunday school class for the first time asked the group of bright-faced six-year-olds what the lesson had been the previous Sunday. Silence prevailed for a moment. Then a snub-nosed urchin waved his hand frantically and when granted permission to speak, answered: "It was about burning the bugs in the church." Conversation with the former teacher afterwards revealed that the lesson had been "Burning Incense in the Temple."

Musician Out of Tune

"Gas pressure in my stomach sometimes distressed me so that I could not think. I played out of tune and twice lost my position. No medicine helped me and I became disheartened. Another musician advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I am now enjoying the best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and all leading druggists. Adv.

You might make it a Pathe Phonograph or a beautiful Sonora. A nice selection of Pathe or Okeh Records or Sheet Music. You will find everything in the line of music at Hall's

Enthusiastic Reports Coming From Salvation Army Solicitors Who Are Meeting With Success

Enthusiastic reports are coming in from the solicitors for the Annual Appeal of the Salvation Army. The chairman, S. R. Adair, says that though times are a little hard just now the business men seem to realize the value of the Salvation Army to the community, and are responding very generously to the appeal for funds.

We believe that the philanthropic citizen will pick the Salvation Army as one organization he cannot abstain from giving to, because in comparing the organizations which have profited by his generosity in the past he will necessarily come to the conclusion that the Salvation Army will do more with his dollar than any other organization. He will find out that the personnel of the Salvation Army is composed of self-sacrificing men and women. He will find out that their motive is entirely to help others. The Salvation Army institutions will appeal to him and lastly it will be expended for the purpose raised. Such discoveries will convince him that one organization he cannot well strike from this year's list of beneficiaries is the Salvation Army.

On all sides nothing but praise for the army is heard. Just today a splendid tribute was paid the Salvation Army by a business man of Brainerd, who for eleven years was

The ragged, the hungry, the homeless are sheltered, the hungry are fed, the discouraged, the contented people by these unselfish workers of the Salvation Army.

The Esquimos, they say, turn the old people out into the snow to die. Care of the old is one of the crucial tests of civilization. The Salvation Army is meeting this test daily. Old people who have no place to go, and no one to care for them are assured of loving care at the Army homes. Who knows what the future may bring? Let us to whom the comforts of life now seem secure give as freely as we can to this organization that is known around the world for its work among the poor and needy. By way of 'The University of the Second Chance' many a man has been transformed from a regular "Bum" into a tax-paying citizen, a credit to his own community. Suppose nobody cared. The conditions would rapidly become appalling. As "Community Insurance" money invested in the Salvation Army pays big dividends. So let's back the Salvation Army and put this Annual Appeal across with a will!

Walking to Walk.

For a long time in this country walking attracted less attention than any other outdoor pastime on the calendar. Indeed, once upon a time a man who felt like going for a tramp simply put on his hat and started off. He carried no advertisement of his game such as Englishmen did with their knickers, heavy shoes, distinctive hats and stout walking sticks. The American simply went walking to walk. Those times are passing. Walking is coming into the recognition it deserves. Hiking is fashionable. Clubs are formed to promote it.—New York Herald.

Diplomatic Bob.

Bob and I were out sailing when the boat was capsized by a sudden shifting breeze, writes a correspondent of the Chicago Journal. While we were in the water, clinging to the boat, Bob proposed. I remember I said "yes" for fear he would let me drown. I refused. As soon as he had his answer he said "The water is shallow here, so let's not bother righting the boat. We can just walk to shore."

EMIL THORGAARD IS MISSING MAN

For Former Soldier

ALL ACCOUNTS ARE CORRECT

Missing Man's Parents Live in Brainerd But Have Heard Nothing from Him Since Disappearance

Washington, D. C., papers have carried this announcement of a former Brainerd man who is missing and whose friends are vainly searching for him:

Emil Thorgaard's whereabouts is causing his friends much anxiety. The missing man, who is twenty-six years old, disappeared from his room at 613 12th street, the first week of October. He was a former soldier employed in the zone finance bureau of the quartermaster department of the Army.

An examination of Thorgaard's books showed his work was correct in every particular. The missing man's parents reside in Brainerd, Minn., but they have heard nothing from him since his disappearance, the police were told.

In a letter to the Brainerd Dispatch, Edward P. McCabe, of 325 East Capitol, Washington, D. C., writes of the efforts made to locate the missing man. Hospitals and morgues were searched.

Friends assure him his job is held open for him. A. M. Scott, his employer, of the Funds Division, Rear 1st Wing, Munitions Building, Washington, D. C., residence telephone Lincoln 5558, is doing everything he can to find him. He lodged at 613 Twelfth St. N. W., writes Mr. McCabe, and they said Thorgaard had left everything, going without his overcoat.

NEW SPORT INTRODUCED

Brainerd on the Eve of Adopting the Crack in This Sport Now Raging in London

Have you begun to pogo yet? If not, you will soon be following London's example. To go pogoing, you must have a pogo, which is a sort of animated stick; mount it and go.

Speaking of great outdoor sports, do you pogo? Or don't you even know what pogo is? Well, it's nothing like lotto, or poko, or stiffs. Before very long there will be pogoers right here in Brainerd, in our best squares and streets.

The pogo is a stick with an ingenious device near the bottom made of India rubber and a spring. You mount the pogo something after the fashion with which you doubtless have observed children mount a scooter car.

The pogo jumps you along without the least jar and no great amount of physical effort, but from time to time you will have to have the shock absorber renewed. A record in pogoing has been achieved when the expert went up a stairway six steps at a time.

The pogo is a sort of high-brow cousin of the old-fashioned jumping stick and a little more removed from the duck legs and the stiffs of your youth. With it said, even peepless persons are enabled to jump about with much the same ease as a care-free kangaroo on a mild September day.

Pogo sticks are made to fit various grades of human altitude and avoid dupeis. Each stick is stamped with its weight it can pogo with the greatest efficiency. The experts say that on no account should a pogo reach quite as high as the mouth. Otherwise it might become something of a poko and result in the loss of a tooth or two. One of the warnings is that the pogoer is likely to meet with disaster if he attempts to use his stick on a wet pavement. It is also said to be very bad form to do a pogo on a parquetry floor.

ELKS REGULATE DANCING PARTIES

Elks Hall Must Be Cleared of All
Dancers by 1 O'Clock at Night,
Is Order Promulgated

DANCES MAY START AT 8 P. M.

Club Rooms of Elks Lodge to Close
Promptly at Midnight Each Night is Ordered

At a meeting in the committee room of the First National bank held Thursday evening and attended by officers, house and social committee and the trustees of Brainerd Lodge No. 615 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks rules were promulgated and ordered into effect immediately regulating dances given in Elks hall and the use of the Elks club rooms.

Elks hall, when used for dancing, must be cleared of all dancers by 1 o'clock in the morning. Instead of starting dances at 9 o'clock, they may be started at 8 o'clock and conclude by midnight or 12:30 o'clock at the latest, thus giving ample time to clear the hall at 1 o'clock.

Notice to this effect is being sent the various orders and others using the Elks hall for dances and other entertainments.

It was further ordered that the Elks club rooms close at midnight. It was brought out that Elks lodges in the large cities having custodians close their club rooms at stated hours. There is on club room in any Elks lodge that is open all night.

The regulations as adopted will be put into effect immediately. Notice of the same is to be posted on bulletin board in the club room and also sent out to the membership.

BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES OF TODAY

It's Uncle Frank Cater now. The popular member of the Peoples Supply Co. grocery store is now uncle to a pretty baby girl born to Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCormick. Mr. McCormick conducts the auto top company.

It happened at the Lions' club luncheon. Somebody is on the secret said overcoats out in the coat room were being examined for contraband by special officers. Officer brought in one offending overcoat and pulled out of its pocket bottle of something. One of the Lions' confessed it was his coat, but he denied having anything to do with the bottle. Later the joke was explained and the bottle was found to have been planted and to have contained nothing but tea.

NOTICE

A meeting of the advisory board of the Salvation Army will be held at Chamber of Commerce at 8:30 tonight. A very important meeting. All should attend.

He leaves a wife, two twin sons Harold and Raymond aged about 21 and a daughter Miss Bernice, aged 15. The remains of Hugh Breason will arrive from St. Paul on Friday night. No funeral announcements have been made until all relatives can be communicated with.

Walking to Walk.

For a long time in this country walking attracted less attention than any other outdoor pastime on the calendar. Indeed, once upon a time a man who felt like going for a tramp simply put on his hat and started off. He carried no advertisement of his game such as Englishmen did with their knickers, heavy shoes, distinctive hats and stout walking sticks. The American simply went walking to walk. Those times are passing. Walking is coming into the recognition it deserves. Hiking is fashionable. Clubs are formed to promote it.—New York Herald.

EMIL THORGAARD IS MISSING MAN

Friends in Washington, D. C., Where He Was Employed are Searching For Former Soldier

ALL ACCOUNTS ARE CORRECT

Missing Man's Parents Live in Brainerd But Have Heard Nothing from Him Since Disappearance

Washington, D. C., papers have carried this announcement of a former Brainerd man who is missing and whose friends are vainly searching for him:

Emil Thorgaard's whereabouts is causing his friends much anxiety. The missing man, who is twenty-six years old, disappeared from his room at 613 12th street, the first week of October. He was a former soldier employed in the zone finance bureau of the quartermaster department of the Army.

An examination of Thorgaard's books showed his work was correct in every particular. The missing man's parents reside in Brainerd, Minn., but they have heard nothing from him since his disappearance, the police were told.

In a letter to the Brainerd Dispatch, Edward P. McCabe, of 325 East Capitol, Washington, D. C., writes of the efforts made to locate the missing man. Hospitals and morgues were searched.

Friends assure him his job is held open for him. A. M. Scott, his employer, of the Funds Division, Rear 1st Wing, Munitions Building, Washington, D. C., residence telephone Lincoln 5558, is doing everything he can to find him. He lodged at 613 Twelfth St. N. W., writes Mr. McCabe, and they said Thorgaard had left everything, going without his overcoat.

NEW SPORT INTRODUCED

Brainerd on the Eve of Adopting the Craze in This Sport Now Raging in London

Have you begun to pogo yet? If not, you will soon be following London's example. To go pogoing, you must have a pogo, which is a sort of animated stick; mount it and go.

Speaking of great outdoor sports, do you pogo? Or don't you even know what pogo is? Well, it's nothing like lotto, or pogo, or stilt. Before very long there will be pogoers right here in Brainerd, in our best squares and streets.

The pogo is a stick with an ingenious device near the bottom made of India rubber and a spring. You mount the pogo something after the fashion with which you doubtless have observed children mount a scooter car.

The pogo jumps you along without the least jar and no great amount of physical effort, but from time to time you will have to have the shock absorber renewed. A record in pogoing has been achieved when the expert went up a stairway six steps at a time.

The pogo is a sort of high-brow cousin of the old-fashioned jumping stick and a little more removed from the duck legs and the stilt of your youth. With it said, even peepless persons are enabled to jump about with much the same ease as a car-free kangaroo on a mild September day.

Pogo sticks are made to fit various grades of human altitude and avoirdupois. Each stick is stamped with the weight it can pogo with the greatest efficiency. The experts say that on no account should a pogo reach quite as high as the mouth. Otherwise it might become something of a pogo and result in the loss of a tooth or two. One of the warnings is that the pogoer is likely to meet with disaster if he attempts to use his stick on a wet pavement. It is also said to be very bad form to do a pogo on a parquetry floor.

ELKS REGULATE DANCING PARTIES

Elks Hall Must Be Cleared of All Dancers by 1 O'Clock at Night, Is Order Promulgated

DANCES MAY START AT 8 P. M.

Club Rooms of Elks Lodge to Close Promptly at Midnight Each Night is Ordered

At a meeting in the committee room of the First National bank held Thursday evening and attended by officers, house and social committee and the trustees of Brainerd Lodge No. 615 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks rules were promulgated and ordered into effect immediately regulating dances given in Elks hall and the use of the Elks club rooms.

Elks hall, when used for dancing, must be cleared of all dancers by 1 o'clock in the morning. Instead of starting dances at 9 o'clock, they may be started at 8 o'clock and conclude by midnight or 12:30 o'clock at the latest, thus giving ample time to clear the hall at 1 o'clock.

Notice to this effect is being sent the various orders and others using the Elks hall for dances and other entertainments.

It was further ordered that the Elks club rooms close at midnight. It was brought out that Elks lodges in the large cities having custodians close their club rooms at stated hours. There is on club room in any Elks lodge that is open all night.

The regulations as adopted will be put into effect immediately. Notice of the same is to be posted on bulletin board in the club room and also sent out to the membership.

BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES OF TODAY

It's Uncle Frank Cater now. The popular member of the Peoples Supply Co. grocery store is now uncle to a pretty baby girl born to Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCormick. Mr. McCormick conducts the auto-top company.

It happened at the Lions' club luncheon. Somebody is on the secret said overcoats out in the coat room were being examined for contraband by special officers. Officer brought in one offending overcoat and pulled out of its pocket bottle of something. One of the Lions confessed it was his coat, but he denied having anything to do with the bottle. Later the joke was explained and the bottle was found to have been planted and to have contained nothing but tea.

May McAvoy Scores Again

When Reallart determined to celebrate their second anniversary with a special production, they combed the industry for someone to fittingly occupy the star part in the story which was written by Hector Turnbull. It was not mere chance that Miss McAvoy was chosen to play the role of the petite French maid, Jeanne Millette, in "A Private Scandal," coming tomorrow to the New Park Theatre with the regular vaudeville show.

Miss McAvoy had already made a reputation for herself with her marvelous interpretation of Grizel in "Sentimental Tommy" and her fine characterizations in "The Devil's Garden," "Truth About Husbands," "Forbidden Valley" and other pictures.

In "A Private Scandal," Miss McAvoy is called upon to portray a very difficult role, that of an innocent girl upon whom suspicion rests, and who keeps silent through loyalty to the guilty woman who has been her friend and benefactress. Miss McAvoy handles this with consummate art.

Match-Making Tomboy Scores Big Hit

Some years ago a delectable play of youthful romance appeared in New York under the name of "Jerry." Its bubbling and effervescent humor made it an immediate triumph. Like so many other things of the drama "Jerry" has been made in a motion picture—and under the new title of "Don't Call Me Little Girl" it opened this afternoon at the New Park Theatre for today only.

"Don't Call Me Little Girl" is a Mary Miles Minter production for Reallart and this afternoon's audience found the young star wonderfully well cast in the role of "Jerry," the incorrigible tom-boy whose juggling of three romances, her own, her aunt's and her mother's, forms a delicious hodge-podge of thoroughly enjoyable fun.

The star is supported by an unusual cast. Playing the lead role of Monty in a manner reminiscent of the part's best traditions in Jerome Patrick, the good looking leading man, who has appeared so successfully in recent motion pictures, notably, "The Furnace," and "Her First Elopement."

As Aunt Joan, who has grown to be an old maid far too soon, Ruth Stonehouse shows the same cleverness which has brought her such fame in the past. Edward Flanagan of the well-known vaudeville team of Flanagan and Edwards, gets splendid laughs from the role of Peter, the "safety first" lover.

The continuity of "Don't Call Me Little Girl" is unusually smooth, while the direction has all that quick sense for the humorous betokened in Joseph Henabery's previous endeavors with Roscoe Arbuckle. Faxon Dean presided at the camera.

All Star Vaudeville for the New Park Saturday

The first number on the vaudeville bill at the New Park Theatre tomorrow are, Morse and Clark, two men with voices that will most assuredly appeal to all lovers of vocal music. They have an offering which they term "An Artistic Vocal Episode," wherein they delight the ear with harmony singing that is most certainly high class in every respect. Both members of this team the musical entertainers of sterling worth. Their numbers consist of solos and duets from a repertoire consisting of ballads, comedy musical numbers, etc. One of the members accompanying the other on the piano during the act.

The second number on this bill are the Garrison Sisters in a "Novelty Posing Act," featuring the most perfectly formed girl in the world. This certainly proves to be one of the most interesting and novel acts displayed this season.

The third act are Walker and Brown who have proved one of the biggest comedy hits of the year. They do a routine of singing, talking and dancing that more than pleases, and they have the reputation of being the hit of all bills they work on. A rare treat is awaiting our patrons in this act.

The fourth and last act are Mowatt and Lynch, a duo of excellent club jugglers, who have made this act more than a gymnasium feature. They are the leading club juggling team of the theatrical world, and have played two consecutive years throughout the east at all leading vaudeville theatres, also eight months in Australia. This is their initial trip to the west.

"Peppy" Musical Comedy at New Park Sunday

The Band Box Revue, playing one of the very latest New York successes, in a miniature tabloid form, will appear at the Park theatre Sunday for one day only. This show comes to Brainerd with an enviable reputation, and while it does not carry sixty people as did the original show, it has a bevy of pretty chorus girls, that amply provide enough of the "Peppy" elements to make the show a huge success. This company has been augmented from selected artists, that in the punch in what they do, and you will enjoy this show as much as you could if you saw the entire production as presented in New York.

There will be three shows given on Sunday, matinee at 2:15 and two shows in the evening at 7 and 9 o'clock.

LOCAL DELEGATES TO ATTEND GOOD ROADS CONGRESS

ROAD MACHINERY EXPOSITION, COLISEUM, CHICAGO

This city and county are being urged to make suitable provision for sending delegates officially to the Twelfth American Good Roads Congress and Thirteenth National Good Roads Show to be held under the auspices of the American Road Builders' Association at the Coliseum, in Chicago, January 17, 18, 19 and 20 next.

The mayors of more than 5,000 American and Canadian cities and the boards of commissioners in 3,000 counties have each been asked to appoint from three to five delegates. In many cases the delegates will be headed by the mayors and the commissioners themselves.

An exhaustive program dealing with the latest methods developed in the construction of all types of roads and streets, safety on the highways, road taxes, street assessments, highway bond issues, road administration and maintenance, traffic regulation, highway transportation and numerous other subjects of vital interest to the officials who deal with public thoroughfares, as well as contractors, engineers and good roads advocates generally, has been prepared. Twenty thousand delegates are expected to attend the congress.

The big exposition of labor saving machinery, methods and appliances, which will include many things that are new, will be the greatest of the kind he world has ever known. Enough space has already been engaged by exhibitors to fill the Coliseum and Annex, breaking all previous records for this exposition and making it necessary for the Road Builders' Association to lease adjoining buildings in order to house the overflow.

latter is kept from prison and returns to his small town home determined to reform.

For a time everything goes well. The boy takes a humble position as a grocer's clerk. His reform is made difficult when the gang discovers his hiding place, and threatens to expose him unless he helps in the robbery of his employer. For a time it looks as though the lure of the old life would drag him back, and it is not until he has opened his employer's safe for the gang that the real awakening comes to him, and at the risk of his life he battles with the members of the gang. The outcome is developed in a most dramatic climax.

Edna Murphy is seen as the young man's sweetheart, the influence of whose love does much toward his reclamation.

AMUSEMENTS

May McAvoy Scores Again

When Realart determined to celebrate their second anniversary with a special production, they combed the industry for someone to fittingly occupy the star part in the story which was written by Hector Turnbull. It was not mere chance that Miss McAvoy was chosen to play the role of the petite French maid, Jeanne Millette, in "A Private Scandal," coming tomorrow to the New Park Theatre with the regular vaudeville show.

Miss McAvoy had already made a reputation for herself with her marvelous interpretation of Grizel in "Sentimental Tommy" and her fine characterizations in "The Devil's Garden," "Truth About Husbands," "Forbidden Valley" and other pictures.

In "A Private Scandal," Miss McAvoy is called upon to portray a very difficult role, that of an innocent girl upon whom suspicion rests, and who keeps silent through loyalty to the guilty woman who has been her friend and benefactress. Miss McAvoy handles this with consummate art.

Match-Making Tomboy Scores Big Hit

Some years ago a delectable play of youthful romance appeared in New York under the name of "Jerry." Its bubbling and effervescent humor made it an immediate triumph. Like so many other things of the drama "Jerry" has been made in a motion picture—and under the new title of "Don't Call Me Little Girl" it opened this afternoon at the New Park Theatre for today only.

"Don't Call Me Little Girl" is a Mary Miles Minter production for Realart and this afternoon's audience found the young star wonderfully well cast in the role of "Jerry," the incorrigible tom-boy whose juggling of three romances, her own, her aunt's and her mother's, forms a delicious hodge-podge of thoroughly enjoyable fun.

The star is supported by an unusual cast. Playing the lead role of Monty in a manner reminiscent of the part's best traditions in Jerome Patrick, the good looking leading man, who has appeared so successfully in recent motion pictures, notably, "The Furnace," and "Her First Elopement."

As Aunt Joan, who has grown to be an old maid far too soon, Ruth Stonehouse shows the same cleverness which has brought her such fame in the past. Edward Flanagan of the well-known vaudeville team of Flanagan and Edwards, gets splendid laughs from the role of Peter, the "safety first" lover.

The continuity of "Don't Call Me Little Girl" is unusually smooth, while the direction has all that quick sense for the humorous betokened in Joseph Henabery's previous endeavors with Roncoe Arbuckle. Faxon Dean presided at the camera.

All Star Vaudeville for the New Park Saturday

The first number on the vaudeville bill at the New Park Theatre tomorrow are, Morse and Clark, two men with voices that will most assuredly appeal to all lovers of vocal music. They have an offering which they term "An Artistic Vocal Episode," wherein they delight the ear with harmony singing that is most certainly high class in every respect. Both members of this team the musical entertainers of sterling worth. Their numbers consist of solos and duets from a repertoire consisting of ballads, comedy musical numbers, etc. One of the members accompanying the other on the piano during the act.

The second number on this bill are the Garrison Sisters in a "Novelty Posing Act," featuring the most perfectly formed girl in the world. This certainly proves to be one of the most interesting and novel acts displayed this season.

The third act are Walker and Brown who have proved one of the biggest comedy hits of the year. They do a routine of singing, talking and dancing that more than pleases, and they have the reputation of being the hit of all bills they work on. A rare treat is awaiting our patrons in this act.

The fourth and last act are Mowatt and Lynch, a duo of excellent club jugglers, who have made this act more than a gymnasium feature. They are the leading club juggling team of the theatrical world, and have played two consecutive years throughout the east at all leading vaudeville theatres, also eight months in Australia. This is their initial trip to the west.

"Peppy" Musical Comedy at New Park Sunday

The Band Box Revue, playing one of the very latest New York successes, in a miniature tabloid form, will appear at the Park theatre Sunday for one day only. This show comes to Brainerd with an enviable reputation, and while it does not carry sixty people as did the original show, it has a bevy of pretty chorus girls, that amply provide enough of the "Peppy" elements to make the show a huge success. This company has been augmented from selected artists, that on the punch in what they do, and you will enjoy this show as much as you could if you saw the entire production as presented in New York.

There will be three shows given on Sunday, matinee at 2:15 and two shows in the evening at 7 and 9 o'clock.

"Play Square" Lyceum Offering

LOCAL DELEGATES TO ATTEND GOOD ROADS CONGRESS

ROAD MACHINERY EXPOSITION, COLISEUM, CHICAGO

This city and county are being urged to make suitable provision for sending delegates officially to the Twelfth American Good Roads Congress and Thirteenth National Good Roads Show to be held under the auspices of the American Road Builders' Association at the Coliseum, in Chicago, January 17, 18, 19 and 20 next.

The mayors of more than 5,000 American and Canadian cities and the boards of commissioners in 3,000 counties have each been asked to appoint from three to five delegates. In many cases the delegates will be headed by the mayors and the commissioners themselves.

An exhaustive program dealing with the latest methods developed in the construction of all types of roads and streets, safety on the highways, road taxes, street assessments, highway bond issues, road administration and maintenance, traffic regulation, highway transportation and numerous other subjects of vital interest to the officials who deal with public thoroughfares, as well as contractors, engineers and good roads advocates generally, has been prepared. Twenty thousand delegates are expected to attend the congress.

The big exposition of labor saving machinery, methods and appliances, which will include many things that are new, will be the greatest of the kind he world has ever known. Enough space has already been engaged by exhibitors to fill the Coliseum and Annex, breaking all previous records for this exposition and making it necessary for the Road Builders' Association to lease adjoining buildings in order to house the overflow.

For a time everything goes well. The boy takes a humble position as a grocer's clerk. His reform is made difficult when the gang discovers his hiding place, and threatens to expose him unless he helps in the robbery of his employer. For a time it looks as though the lure of the old life would drag him back, and it is not until he has opened his employer's safe for the gang that the real awakening comes to him, and at the risk of his life he battles with the members of the gang. The outcome is developed in a most dramatic climax.

Edna Murphree is seen as the young man's sweetheart, the influence of whose love does much toward his reclamation.
